

Excelling Beyond W4C

Bianca Aguilon's story is an inspiring testament to the determination and hard work of students who strive to achieve their dreams. Despite currently juggling three jobs as a Jiu Jitsu coach, nanny, and a W4C student in the Information Technology (I.T.) department, Bianca is set to graduate from high school with an associate degree. In addition to work, she actively participates in organizations on both Harts Bluff's and NTCC's campus, such as Future Farmers of America and Phi Theta Kappa. While Bianca's involvement is impressive, what sets her apart is her exceptional performance in her endeavors: a trip to Nationals, championship titles, and a proclamation from the city of Mount Pleasant for her academic excellence. When asked why she chose to participate in the W4C Program, she expressed, "The campus is so inclusive! I walked in on the first day and I automatically felt wanted. The people here have gone out of their way to support me." This highlights Bianca's appreciation for the environment on NTCC's campus, where she feels valued and encouraged to excel by those around her.

"I automatically felt wanted."

Bianca Aguilon

despite her already demanding responsibilities, Bianca expressed, "The campus is so inclusive! I walked in on the first day and I automatically felt wanted. The people here have gone out of their way to support me." This highlights Bianca's appreciation for the environment on NTCC's campus, where she feels valued and encouraged to excel by those around her.

Above: Bianca Aguilon and Mayor Pro Tem Tim Dale

Below: Bianca at our MAD City Budgeting Simulation

